YALE MAY ADOPT RUNNING STYLE OF ATTACK THIS FALL

Head Coach Tad Jones isn't saying much about the forward pass this year but it is believed the Elis will be dis-playing the running attack before the season reaches the big games. Yale elevens have always adhered to the more conservative style of play with the exceptions of 1914 and 1915. when they ran wild with the lateral pass.

But their conservative football didn't succeed last year against the more modern methods of attack as practiced and full of confidence, despite their two defeats, the Cleveland Indians arrived early today from Brooklyn to engage the Dodgers in the fourth game of the world's series here tomorrow.

Conquering heroes never received a more noisy reception than the playors when they piled off the train. Streets leading to the union station were lined with cheering enthusiasts who apparently forgot the two defeats, handed the Indians on the Brooklyn field.

Wait until we get them in our own park," the crowds shouted.

In a proclamation issued by Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald yesterday, he called upon all Clevelanders to do honor to their team.

"They will win the series if Cleveland backs them as it backed them in the pennant fight," the proclamation read. "I ask that Cleveland. Friday, show in every way possible its appreciation."

FEATURE OF GAME

In Cleveland's part of the eighth inning, with one out and a man on first when Nunamajer came to but for Mails and Jamieson on first to run for O'Neill, the fans thought a big show was pending. And sure enough Nunamaker grounded to third, whence the sphere was relayed to second and to first in the nicest little double play of the game. of the game.

Pitcher Smith knocked out a hot one during his turn in the seventh. It went over the right field fence. The range could not have been improved upon, but the error in deflection was so pronounced that it was called a foul.

Robins made their two winning tailings in the first inning.

The same procrastinators, armed with reserved seat tickets good for the day only, received one shock after another en route from subways to the field, when they were met by crowds returning to Manhattan. It looked as though the game had been called off and every one was going home. Those governor with two winning to the standard of a near two bagger he rolled to short and was beaten to the sack.
